WELL DONE.

THE STATE GRANGE COMMISSION SUB-
MITS ITS REPORT.How the Visiting National Grangers
Were Received and Taken Care of Here.

The State Grange Commission, which was created by the last Legislature, and for the uses of which an appropriation of $10,000 was made, has completed its labors and yesterday submitted a report to the State Controller. The Commission remits $119.35 to the Treasurer, as that portion of the appropriation unexpended. The report is signed by President William Johnston and Secretary G. W. Hancock.

"The President and Secretary of the Commission," says the report, "met and received the members of the National Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, at Humboldt, Nev., November 11, 1889, and reported them to Sacramento, where they arrived November 12th. On the evening of the 12th the citizens of Sacramento tendered them a banquet of Sacramento, several of which were declined for want of time.

"On November 21st the Grange was escorted to Folsom State Prison, where they were conducted by the Warden and his estimable lady. They were shown through the prison and to the dam across the American river, returning to Sacramento for the night much pleased with the freshness and beauty of the American river valley."

"November 22d we started at 8 a. m. for Marysville, where we were met by the members of the Wheatland and Yuba City Grangers and the Marysville, where carriages were provided for the party around the city and to some of the active farms in Sutter county. A fine collation awaited them at the Agricultural Pavilion, which was served by the ladies. At 3 p. m. the party for Colusa, driving over the o'clock, where they were met by the people of that place and were tendered a banquet and entertained at the hotels and private residences of citizens for the night.

"On the morning of the 23d they were driven to Marysville, where they were met by the grounds of the Rancho Chico and other points of interest, and at 1 p. m. started for Vina, where they were at the vineyard of Senator Stoddard, driving the wine cellars and stables. Left Vina at 1 p. m. for Tehama, where they crossed the Sacramento river and turned down the west of Sacramento valley.

"At Willows the party were greeted with a hearty and impromptu reception in general, one of the most pleasing features of the whole trip.

"On arriving at Woodland, the party were taken in charge by the citizens of that place, and after a visitation of the interior man, were escorted to the Opera House, where they listened to an essay on irrigation by Wm. H. Mills.

"On the morning of the 24th many took advantage of the time to visit the local scenes and committee and rode out to the rich country surrounding. Others embraced the opportunity of attending church and taking a little needed rest. At 1 p. m. the party started for Santa Rosa, where they were taken in charge of a local Grange of that place, and after a bountiful spread had been fully disposed of, the party repaired to the Grange hall, where the praises of California soil, climate, and her people were sounded full and strong."

"November 25th we left Santa Rosa, for Geyserville, Cloverdale and Ukiah. There we took of the hospitality of the people of the latter, and were entertained at the Hotel, where they were taken to the Palace Hotel, where we remained two nights, giving full day to the city and surroundings.

"November 26th we visited Leland Stanford University, the Alamo Stock Farm, and passing on to San Jose took carriages for a drive over the valley and took lunch at the Quito Olive Farm and returned to San Jose, where a banquet awaited us prepared over by the generous citizens of the place.

"November 28th we visited Del Monte, Monterey and Pacific Grove, dining at the Del Monte Hotel, and returning to San Jose, where we remained two nights.

"November 29th, at 4 a. m. we left Stockton for Merced, where we were warmly received and breakfasted. The people here were prepared to give us other entertainments than a table of the best. The kindness of the railroad compelled that we leave at 10 a. m. for Fresno, where we lunched, and in the afternoon rode through Fresno's far-famed raisin vineyards, and banqueted in the city.

"December 1st we breakfasted with the Patrons of Husbandry of Tulare, and took an excursion to Visalia and moved on to Bakersfield, where we took lunch and were driven to Fresno, where we had a good time. Carr Ranchos, returning to Bakersfield to a sumptuous banquet, which closed at the hour of 10 p. m., when we took our departure for Los Angeles, where we arrived December 2d at 11 P. M.

"December 3d we visited Los Angeles under the care of the Board of Trade and other committees, we were then driven through the principal business streets and to other points of interest, after which we visited Alhambra, where we dined at the Persian (pocelo) wondrous citrus groves of that place, and after an enjoyable lunch and a pleasant interchange of sentiment we returned to Los Angeles and moved south to San Diego (by way of Oceanside), where we put up at the Compton Hotel, under the entertainment of Kimball Bros. and Mr. Babcock.

"On December 4th the party crossed the United States into Mexico, and after a long and hard ride, "Betwixt Sun and Moon," visited the Sweetwater dam and orange groves along the route and returned to Coronado for the night.

"December 5th we visited Riverside, thoroughly inspecting the vast area of citrus groves, and returned to Los Angeles, where, on the morning of December 5th, the members were met by the Los Angeles Committee and presented with a basket of oranges and a bottle of wine each, as a final parting tribute.

"It was noticeable that throughout the entire trip every variety of fruit, from the orange to the apple was shown in perfection, and the taste of the fruit was thoroughly impressed that as a whole California has no equal. It would require a volume to give an elaborate report.

"This, in connection with the financial statement, will show fully if the action of the committee was sincere and judicious.

AT THE GAS WELL.

Natural Gas Stillly Issuing From the Pipe—Encouraging Outlook.

A large number of citizens visited the natural gas well at Fifth and R streets yesterday forenoon to witness tests that were to be made of the illuminating qualities of the gas now escaping from the well.

The apparatus (a funnel) placed over the pipe for collecting the gas is a very imperfect one, nevertheless when a lighted match or candle was placed over the spout a clear flame shot up some six or eight inches in height, and when the gas was collected from the pipe at the surface of the ground, and of course the greater portion of the gas escaped with it. It could not be denied, however, that the gas was collected, no doubt a very strong flame would result.

Enough can be seen, however, to prove that gas of an illuminating quality exists, and the only question to be solved now is, how much is there of it at a greater depth? The gas is certainly good, and will be good for a good strong flow of gas after the well shall be sunk a few hundred feet lower.

The well is now throwing off a steady stream of clear, gas water, and this, of itself should prove valuable in the end, as the gas venture should not prove a success.

FELL FROM A TREE.

Fatal Injuries Sustained by a Boy Yesterday.

A very painful accident happened yesterday morning to the little son of J. B. Klune. He, with some other boys, was playing on N street, near Eighth, when one of the party dared him to climb a popular tree. With boyish recklessness he started to climb the tree and had gotten about fifteen feet above the ground when he lost his hold and fell, striking upon an iron picket fence below.

He fell upon one of the pickets in such a manner that it ripped the flesh of the inner side of his right leg above the knee, fracturing the bone for a distance of six inches. Two other pickets entered his left thigh, inflicting ugly wounds. A few stitches were all that was done.

The physicians were at the scene almost terrible, but doctors were sent for immediately and the unfortunate little fellow was properly cared for. The injuries are very painful, and it will probably be several weeks before the lad is able to walk again.

ZINK WASN'T DEAD.

HE RETURNS TO LIFE AND SPOILS YONKER'S GAME.

A blacksmith who took advantage of a friend's confidence is landed in jail.

A. J. Yonker, a blacksmith formerly employed in this city, occupies a cell at the city prison, and two charges of forgery appear opposite his name on the prison register.

Yonker was working in the shop of George Blue several weeks. George J. Zink was employed in the same place as Yonker's helper, and the two became fast friends. Finally Zink was taken sick, and was advised to go to the County Hospital. Zink's doctor advised him to go to the hospital, and gradually recovered.

It was about a week later that Yonker appeared at the jewelry store, and presented a note purporting to be an order for $10. The money was paid over to Zink, who was then advised to go to a doctor for another order for $10, which was also paid.

The prospects that Flament and Horrell will be dealt severely with.

AUSPICIOUS OPENING.

The New Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank Makes Its Bow.

The Farmers' and Mechanics' Savings Bank was formally opened yesterday.

The new corporation is situated in the building recently occupied by the California State Bank, and it begins with a guaranteed capital stock of $500,000. The opening was made under the most auspicious circumstances, and the prospects for the future are exceedingly bright.

A. C. Yonker (respondent) vs. Robert Woodruff. The action is for damages for an order given to the defendant to demur to the complaint. The only question on this appeal is whether the complaint states facts sufficient to entitle the plaintiff to maintain the action. In October, 1888, the plaintiff commenced an action against the defendant for an appraisal of certain property and to recover an order for partition or sale, and the application of the excess to the satisfaction of his claim. But these proceedings were never prosecuted beyond having appraisers appointed. They never qualified or acted, and no further proceedings were taken in that action. In October, 1889, Mr. Woodruff, the plaintiff's present defendant (Russell) was appointed as administrator. Early in 1889 this action was commenced for the sale of the property and the application of the excess to the satisfaction of the plaintiff's claim. The Supreme Court held that the complaint did not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action, and the judgment must be affirmed.

But these proceedings were never prosecuted beyond having appraisers appointed. They never qualified or acted, and no further proceedings were taken in that action. In October, 1889, Mr. Woodruff, the plaintiff's present defendant (Russell) was appointed as administrator. Early in 1889 this action was commenced for the sale of the property and the application of the excess to the satisfaction of the plaintiff's claim. The Supreme Court held that the complaint did not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action, and the judgment must be affirmed.

Heavy Trade in the New York Silver Market—Diamond Dust—Racing Events.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

SILVER TRADE.

Very Heavy Business and a Decline in Prices.

New York, October 1st.—Trading in silver certificates was very heavy to-day, 11,000 ounces being sold in the New York Stock Exchange and there was an equally heavy business between the brokers on the Pacific Coast. The decline in the situation since yesterday, and the prospect appeared decidedly unfavorable. One of the most prominent German house sold nearly 1,000,000 ounces, and forced the price down to $1.30. The market is now in a state of suspense, for account of a pool which has been carrying a large block down from around $1.15, and the silver dealers say that when this silver was known to have been sold, they were willing to begin buying again and buying orders came from many sources to-day, carrying the price up to 1.14.

The brokers ascribe the improvement to the return of the miners from the market to a higher market in London, and to the purchases by the Government for the October quota. The United States authorities believe that the decline was the work of market operators, who depressed the market in the endeavor to make a profit, and placed it on the way to be considered and passed upon when the vacancy is filled.
